

Attitudes on Social Media to International and Local Aid in Libya

This social media monitoring brief presents the findings from a review of more than 2,500 Facebook comments posted as part of public online discussions related to the provision of international and local aid in Libya following the flooding in eastern Libya in September 2023. The aim is to understand online sentiment towards key issues and subjects that could help aid agencies in their programming and security risk management. Read more

“Peace be upon you. I swear to God, we are in Derna in Libya, the floods swept us away and our homes were destroyed. And the United Nations is aware of this and no one from inside and outside Libya has done anything.”

This Bi-Monthly News Brief comprises threats and incidents of violence affecting the delivery of humanitarian assistance. It is part of the Aid in Danger project, by Insecurity Insight. It is prepared from information available in local, national and international news outlets and online databases. The incidents reported are not a complete nor a representative list of all events that affected the provision of aid delivery and have not been independently verified. All decisions made, on the basis of, or with consideration to, such information remains the responsibility of their respective organisations. Insecurity Insight continues to update data on aid workers killed, injured, kidnapped or arrested (KIKA) and figures may change. Updated data includes new and historic reports identified in open-sources and verified security incidents submitted by Aid in Danger partner agencies.
